

Tenant to tenant migrations

Draw on our experience to take the headache out of a complex migration

We understand the time and business pressures presented by complex migration projects. Cloud Essentials has more than 11 years' experience helping our clients make the most of Microsoft's cloud environments.

We've worked on migration projects for highly regulated industries, law firms with sensitive data and specialised data governance requirements, global companies with multiple locations and diverse users. We understand the challenges to deliver a seamless transition with minimal business interruption.

We can help you maximise the opportunities to build strong security foundations and maximise the business benefits from the merger/acquisition/divestiture.

Fully managed, end-to-end migration solution

Our team of highly experienced cloud architects scope out your business needs and challenges and will propose a solution to meet them in the short and long term.

Strategic outlook

Cloud Essentials will help you to design a project to ensure your migration is robust, secure, future proof and maximises cost and business efficiencies. We can offer valuable advice during due diligence about security and governance considerations and the scope of the migration that could save you time and money in the long run.

Fixed budget within tight timescales

An experienced project manager runs the migration project. We scope out the project, discuss and set realistic timescales and agree a fixed price. No surprises.

What makes migration complex?

One or a combination of the following:

- Multiple geographies
- Large volume of data
- Large number of users
- High value data
- Can't afford any downtime
- Tight timescales
- Requirement for day one co-existence
- Inconsistencies in governance and security policies
- Multiple workloads
- Combination of cloud and on-premises
- Compliance obligations

Data security and governance focus

A security baseline assessment is always completed to ensure a robust starting point for the new tenant set up and creating the opportunity to make significant headway in adopting better and rigorous practices for the future.

Vendor agnostic advice

We don't believe in a one-size fits all approach. We consider the interdependencies and your long term business needs. We choose the right tools for each workload.

Significant cost-savings and business efficiencies

Our experience spans not just the core Office 365 workloads but connected applications and repositories of data. We can advise on how to maximise benefit from your Microsoft licence and reduce costs on third party applications.

This was a smooth migration with very little impact on the business during the changeover, we would definitely use Cloud Essentials again if we need to do another migration!
